At redetermination, self-employed individuals must be earning an hourly wage that is at or above State of Connecticut's current minimum wage. This is calculated based on the weekly or monthly income earned divided by the number of hours involved in the work activity. Individuals should submit the verification that shows the current business income.

Instructions

- You may use the worksheet on the back of this form to verify your self-employment income if:
 - You did not file a business income tax return last year; or
 - You filed a business tax return last year and expect a significant change in your business earnings this year.
- You must have business records to verify the information given on this form. Business records include items such as invoices, cancelled checks, receipts for materials purchased, bank account information and your business calendar for us to determine your work schedule. Please send copies. We cannot guarantee original forms will be returned to you.
Note: This form lists the most common business deductions allowed by the IRS. If you claim other deductions, such as depreciation, you must include a worksheet showing how you calculated the expense.
- If you filed a business tax return last year, please include copies of forms IRS 1040 and Schedule C. Include form 8829 if you claim expenses for the business use of your home.
- If you own a corporation or partnership, include copies of IRS forms 1120 and 1065. Your share of profits not distributed to the principal owners will be counted as income.
- Please include copies of any estimated taxes you paid to the IRS this year. Generally, the IRS requires you to make estimated tax payments if you expect to owe at least $1,000 in taxes.
- State or federal law may not allow deductions for the cost of depreciation, the purchase of tools or equipment, entertainment expenses, or prior year business losses. If you claim an expense that is not allowed, we will add the amount to the net income reported on this form.
- We must be able to verify how many hours you work and the work schedule you listed on your application form. Please send us any information you have that verifies your work schedule.
